The following children respected one of the Rights under Southway's Sun & Stars School Charter

Name	Class	Right Respected  Date: 9th January 2018
Louie Hallett	Dali	For respecting our right to learn and achieve together by being a polite and helpful member of the class.
George Young	Picasso	For respecting our right to learn and achieve together by treating others with respect and always thinking of her peers and teachers.
Oscar Gales	Turner	For respecting our right to be treated equally by being an excellent friend.
Millie Pollard	Dickens	For respecting our right to learn and achieve together by always trying her hardest and producing her best work.
Amber Hoy	Rowling	For respecting our right to learn and achieve together by being a supportive team member.

The following children respected one of the Rights under Southway's Sun & Stars School Charter

Finley Melville	Shakespeare	For respecting our right to learn and achieve together through great focus on the chocolate making instructions
Jaimee Canning	Curie	For respecting our right to be heard through excellent listening.
Isobel Seymour	Einstein	For respecting our right to be looked after, kept safe and not harmed by looking after herself and others.
Riley Fagan	Hawking	For respecting our right to learn and achieve together.
Sam Hawking	Churchill	For respecting our right to learn and achieve together by an excellent start to the term and a great attitude.
Jack Nicholas	Mandela	For respecting our right to learn and achieve together by an excellent start to the term and a great attitude.

The following children respected one of the Rights under Southway's Sun & Stars School Charter

Isabelle Green

Pankhurst

For respecting our right to learn and achieve together by an excellent start to the term and a great attitude.